Color Compass Corporation Announces the Retirement of Mort Hall, Vice President of British Columbia

Edmonton, AB – September 15, 2026 – Color Compass Corporation announces the retirement of Mort Hall, Vice President of British Columbia, following an extraordinary career spanning more than 52 years. Mort has been a driving force in the British Columbia region and a respected leader whose influence has helped shape the growth and success of the organization from its early days as White & Peters to the national company known today as Color Compass Corporation.

Throughout his remarkable career, Mort's dedication to customers, employees, supplier partners, and the collision repair industry has left a lasting impact across Canada. His leadership was instrumental in strengthening the British Columbia operation while contributing to the growth and development of Color Compass on a national scale. Beyond business success, Mort is widely recognized for his commitment to building strong teams, mentoring future leaders, and fostering a culture centered on relationships, trust, and long-term partnership.

Reflecting on his retirement, Mort shared: "As I look back on more than 52 years with this company, I am filled with gratitude and pride. From our beginnings as White & Peters through our evolution into Color Compass Corporation, I have had the privilege of leading an incredible team in British Columbia and working alongside outstanding people across Canada. Together, we achieved remarkable growth, overcame challenges, and built a company that is respected throughout our industry. The accomplishments we achieved as a team are something I will always cherish, but what means the most to me is the growth of the individuals I have worked with throughout the country."

Josh Cox, President & CEO of Wesco Group, commented: "Mort's impact on Color Compass has been extraordinary. For 52 years, he has been a leader, built lasting relationships, and helped shape our company's success. We are deeply grateful for his dedication, leadership, and friendship. While he will be greatly missed, his legacy will remain a part of Color Compass for years to come. We thank Mort for his remarkable service and wish him and his family all the best in retirement."
